

We know college isn't your only responsibility. These 20 minute drop-in demos are designed to help you save time researching your papers. You will learn how to access relevant and reliable information quickly so you can get to the best part of college: learning. All sessions are just 20 minutes long, unless otherwise indicated, but if you want to stick around, additional 1-1 assistance will be available after the demonstration.

New workshop times may be arranged for groups of 5 or more, depending on availability. Contact Shawna.hellenius@riohondo.edu to check.

"Can I Use This?" Junk on the Net
While a web page on the history of the Underground Railroad written by a 15-year-old for his 10th grade history report might be enough to satisfy your personal curiosity, it just isn't going to cut it for a college-level research paper. Learn how to scan a web page in 1 minute for scholarly authority.

Research Sources that Win Your Paper an 'A' What research sources make an 'A' paper? Where can you find the best analysis on your topic? What do professors want you to cite? Come here to find out how to access the best information.

Be A Super Googler! Tired of sorting through search results of 1,000,000+ web pages? It's easy to limit your search to relevant and scholarly sites with the right Google commands. This is for students who are already familiar with using Google.

Time Saving Computer Tips for Research Learn to navigate web browsers with short-cut keys, understand .doc, .pdf and other common document formats, and discover the best way to use your USB flash drive to save your research results and class papers!

What the Heck is a "Citation?" Learn how to use MLA guidelines for citing sources for your paper. 30 MINUTES LONG. You must bring sources or bibliography in progress or you won't be allowed in.
